

Artifacts – Then and Now

An artifact is a human-made object. Some artifacts show how tools or devices were different from what we use today. Look at each artifact in the Then column in the chart below. Draw a picture in the Now column to show what each device would look like today. In the first one, today’s device is completely different.

Then	Now
 (typewriter)  (television)  (Magnavox Odyssey gaming console)

Plan your own time capsule that is a gift for those in the future – or for your future self! In the space below, draw or list 5 items that tell about your life. Think about your activities, your entertainment and interests, and current events in the news or your community. Be ready to tell why the items are important to you and the time that you live in.